Reply. jymyeyr. 1 February 2022 at 2 h 26 min. I've already searched the forum for answers but haven't found any, the closest thing I could find was this, I was wondering if anybody could help me, A: I'd like to thank Jens Alfke for helping me out. Although I still don't know why the whole system is crashing, I did get rid of it by just reinstalling everything from scratch. Still, he said the union was "satisfied" with the vote count as of Wednesday.

"Right now, we've filed our petition with the National Labor Relations Board, so that's kind of a last resort if there's something that we believe is unfair that occurred during the election," he said. "We feel very, very confident that the kind of interventions that we've seen around the county, which are really just a smoke screen, they're not really going to have any bearing on the outcome of the election. "We believe that this is really just them attempting to create as much of a distraction as possible so that they can get on with their agenda and that's really what this is." The union has filed its own objections over several ballots, including those cast by two employees in Moore

County who also voted in Richmond County. Moore County Supervisor of Elections Dennis Jones said the ballot was automatically canceled. He said both ballots can be returned for processing. "They can just give them to the clerk's office and we'll take it from there," he said. The union said they plan to continue to pursue the matter of the ballots. "We want to be sure that our members get the say in their workplaces, and it's not being represented in their workplace, so that's what we'll be looking to do," Purol, the president of the union, said. He said he was "quite concerned" about the number of ballots that were cast in three rural areas in a day. He also said the number of ballots cast early by members of the union will likely be higher than the count for the union ballot.
