Q: Getting error like "Intent doesn't exist in current context" in DatabaseUpdater Class I am writing a class called DatabaseUpdater and it has a method called updateDatabase() I added this method to my DatabaseUpdater Class public void updateDatabase() { mydb.insert(mydb.MY_TABLE_NAME, null, mydb.MY_TABLE_COLUMNS); } and the declaration of the class: public class DatabaseUpdater { private SQLiteDatabase mydb; public DatabaseUpdater(Context context, String DB_NAME) { mydb = this.getReadableDatabase(); } public void updateDatabase() { mydb.insert(mydb.MY_TABLE_NAME, null, mydb.MY_TABLE_COLUMNS); } } and i am calling the class like this: private void dbUpdate() { DatabaseUpdater dbUpdate = new DatabaseUpdater(this, DB_NAME); dbUpdate.updateDatabase(); } But when i run the application its giving me an error: Intent doesn't exist in current context. Can any one tell me how to solve this problem? A: I assume your Context has a no-arg constructor. If you have access to that context, then you could remove the parameter from the constructor and use this instead. In your case class DatabaseUpdater { private SQLiteDatabase mydb; private Context context; public DatabaseUpdater(Context context, String DB_NAME) { this.context = context; } public void updateDatabase() { mydb = this.getReadableDatabase(); mydb.insert(mydb.MY_TABLE_NAME, null, mydb.MY_TABLE_COLUMNS); } } private void dbUpdate()
