UncleBob (6362): This is getting… kinda hard to keep up with. So, it's an online RPG, but it plays like a traditional single player RPG, or did at least, until you get to the 4th area, which is a massive, open-world hub area. The catch is that you play the game online. The interface makes the experience a little confusing, but it could be worse. For example, the very first time I played the game, my characters were all stars (powerful levels), and I could only access a limited set of actions. Alter-Ego (1410): The interface to make things a little more intuitive? A lot of text boxes with icons in them that need to be highlighted. OctalM (10): Imo, it's a shame that it's single player only, but apart from that it's a nice game. VietnamLar (615): Did it happen to anyone else that in the tutorial you have to fight your pals? I was hoping it would've been just a short quest to kill some monsters, not a fight in the middle of an arena that somehow depicts the entire life of one of the characters. Kroz (635): Funny to see the first Elden Ring review come from Vlad. Three3O (377): Don't be fooled by it being a particularly image heavy page. The review is actually quite good. VietnamLar (2129): If you look at the review on GameSpot, they seem to be saying 'This is a mediocre game.' VietnamLar (2129): The graphics, gameplay, and plot all seem well executed. VietnamLar (2129): The art/graphics aspect of the game is subpar compared to some of the other entries in the style. The game has a very early-midgame feel, so the game could have used some of that later aesthetic style to really put the finishing touches on the title.

What's new:

NEON ART MUSEUM: RUBY GALLERIA

TEL-AVIV, ISRAEL -- June 27, 2018 -- The world's first museum of 'NEON ART' officially opens in Tel-Aviv, Israel, today, the first day of the exhibition that is expected to be on view through September 20, 2018.
The Neil A. Keren & Associates- and Tel Aviv Museum of Art-curated exhibition features more than 120 pieces from around the globe, including the first Israeli display of 'Neon Art', a movement that developed in the USA in the late '60s, representing a revolution in the history of pop art in 1960s. 'Neon Art' today is less of a movement than a fashion trend spreading all around the globe.

The exhibition includes 60 pieces from the Tel-Aviv Museum of Art's permanent collection, which was donated by Neil Keren, Chairman, Tel Aviv Museum of Art, along with a large selection of works from several collections around the world.
In addition to the renowned works purchased by Neil, the exhibition features experimental works and sequences that were created by Israeli artists, including Yossi Kodner (Technion) and Yuval Pardes (Adlai Gallery).

Israeli "Neon Art" began in 1980s in New York. The works showed that the art of neon-lighting could be used as art and culture. The Q: Textarea not being updated with content after form submit I've been working on a project for a while and I can't seem to find a solution to this issue. I am trying to update a textarea field (NIT) with the text from a div field (NET) that contains formatted text. I tried adding the.select2() function to the NIT textarea but that didn't work. I also tried editing the DOM directly by running into the issue, but this seemed like the wrong answer since the HTML is coming from a.NET field that I'm trying to update.
